Large motor development

I chose drawing for the child's motor development. The Childs name is Evelyn. For the activity I have planned drawing is that she well gets a piece of paper out and I well have her draw a picture of all the teachers in the classroom with colored pencils. The materials she well need are a piece of white paper, colored pencils, and a space were Evelyn could draw.

Makes random marks on paper

- Evelyn puts dots all over the paper

Makes controlled scribbles

- Yes, she scribbles, and she makes circles

Makes basic shapes

- She makes circles and squares but that's all

Combines circles and squares with crossed lines

- She draws a line threw the circles and squares

Makes suns

- No, she does not draw suns

Draws person as sun-face arms and legs

- Never seen her do that

Draws animals, trees, flowers

- She doesn't draw animals or trees but she does draw flowers

Draws objects together in a picture

- Yes, she does draw lines, circles and squares together

I ask Evelyn to draw me a picture of all of the teachers, she drew me a picture of lines and circles and I ask her if that all of the teachers and she said yes and listed the teacher's names.
